

Adventures of Buddy

“Buddy Finds A Home”

(Starring Buddy the Mini)

Chapter 1

It was a bright and beautiful day. Buddy looked up and saw the blue sky with the white puffy clouds. He noticed that the sun felt warm on his body as he stood in the big green field. He noticed something else, too. He noticed that he was hungry.

He looked across the field and saw horses standing around a large apple tree. “Wow”, he thought, “look at all those apples. I bet they taste good”. So he started trotting toward the tree, hoping to enjoy the taste of a shiny red apple.

But it was not to be.

Poor little Buddy stood under the tree looking up at the all the tasty apples. He could not enjoy even one bite of the juicy, bright red apples because he could not reach them! He was too small.

So poor Buddy slowly walked away. He was sad because he was so small. If only he was big like the other horses. It was a bright and beautiful day, but there would be no apples for Buddy today.

Chapter 2

Buddy walked along the country road until he came to a farm. There were many horses on the farm. He saw horses pulling plows, horses carrying people, and he even saw horses playing with other horses. “This must be a happy place”, he said to himself. “look at all the horses who live here”. So he trotted over to the farm as fast as his little legs could carry him.

When he got to the farm he began to feel happy again because he saw that the farmer was feeding the horses delicious grain made of oats and barley and corn. “Oh yummy”, he thought to himself. Buddy trotted up to the other horses and waited in line for his turn to get the food. But when Buddy’s turn came the farmer said, “Go away, this food is only for horses who work on the farm. We can’t use you here. You are too small.”

So poor Buddy slowly walked away. He was sad because he was so small. If only he was big like the other horses. It was a bright and beautiful day, but there would be no grain for Buddy today.

Chapter 3

Buddy was very sad. He walked along the road and thought about how nice it would be if he was like the big horses. Just then he heard a noise and saw a yellow car coming down the road. There was a happy family in the car. There was a mother, a father, and two young children. They were laughing and smiling and singing pretty songs.

“Look!” the young boy shouted when he saw Buddy. The young girl pointed her finger at Buddy and said, “It’s a little horse”. The car stopped and the family got out. Buddy wanted to run away. Why did he have to be so small? But just then the Mother said, “He has such a pretty mane”. The young boy said “And he has such a long tail”. The young girl ran over to Buddy and hugged him. “Father, can we take him home with us and love him forever?” “Why, yes”. The father said. “What a great little horse he is”.

Chapter 4

Buddy had never been so happy. The children played with him every day and gave him apples and carrots. The Mother and Father took turns bringing him hay and grain. Life was good and he knew he was loved. Somehow, Buddy didn’t mind being so small anymore.

It was a bright and beautiful day. Buddy looked up and saw the blue sky with the white puffy clouds. He noticed that the sun felt warm on his body as he stood in the big green field. He noticed something else, too. He noticed that he was happy.

The End.
